Seacrest Wins Over Rams 51-49

The Belle Glade Rams dropped a frustrating 51-49 basketball game to the Seacrest Seahawks Tuesday, January 30. The Rams had fallen behind the first quarter 14-9. However, their shooting warmed up by the second quarter and they caught Seacrest midway of the period and managed a 23-23 half time margin. Tommy Bass and De- weight Ward carried the offense the third period to a four point lead, starting the final quarter. The Rams and Seahawks played on even terms until three minutes were left. Then the Rams went stone cold. Seacrest took advantage and with 1:20 left they had themselves a four point lead. Johnny Bass cut that in half with a left-handed grip shot.

Then the frustration really began. Four Rams went to the free throw line with a choice of eight points. They came away with none. To add to the misery a Ram rebound shot rolled off the rim as the buzzer sounded. The Rams had their troubles at the free throw line. They only hit on 45 percent of their attempts. Seacrest hit 76 percent. Belle Glade led in field goals 21-16 but trailed in free throws 7-19. The loss dropped Belle Glade to 5-5 in the Suncoast. Ward has 16 points in the Rams. He was followed by Johnny and Tommy Bass with 13 and 9. Per- rel Adams did some nice outside shooting for 10 points for Seacrest.

Ward is the 10th leading scorer in the Suncoast. Belle Glade

For Your Heart Give More Live More!

Don Frazier, Chairman of the business Area Fund Drive reports that the appeal to business for donations in self-addressed envelopes sent them is progressing satisfactorily.

"The More You Give - The More You Will Live" is the slogan that touched off the Heart Fund Drive in Belle Glade's business district this past week. Medical leaders, reporting to President Kennedy say "Many cardiovascular diseases which would have been hopeless few years ago are now possible of actual cure.

Achievements pointed out are most heart victims of heart attack now survive—Strokes are no longer hopeless—Surgery and new drugs reduce blood pressure—Blood clotting is retarded by new drugs—Rheumatic fever, forerunner of heart diseases once a childhood menace, now can be prevented—Inside operations on heart are now a reality—Early discovery of heart ailments with diagnostic tools a valuable early treatment.

Dividing PTA Important Issue At Feb. 13 Meeting

Belle Glade PTA will meet February 13 at 8:00 p. m. at the High School Cafeteria. As it will be the Founder's Day meeting, all past Presidents of the PTA have a special invitation.

The main topic of the evening will be the discussion of the division of the PTA into an Elementary PTA and a Junior-Senior High PTA. Belle Glade is one of the largest PTA's in the county.

Mrs. Frank Meyers, State PTA Vice-President, will discuss the matter and the committee appointed by the PTA executive committee, led by John Kinlaw, will present their findings to the organization. There will be several questions and answers periods.

This is a very important decision in our PTA, therefore, every member should be present to voice his opinion.

First hurdle in the campaign to raise $500,000 for one new University at Boca Raton was cleared today, it is reported by C. Robert Burns, chairman of the R. D. (Dick) Hill, West Palm Beach, chairman of the memorial gifts and special fund drive, and William H. Hallman, Boca Raton area chairman, reported that a total of $98,225 in cash gifts and pledges had been made to date. It is anticipated that additional cash gifts to bring the total to $500,000 will be received by February 15.

This means, Burns said, that the will then be clear for architects to draw up the final working plans for actual construction of the first buildings on the 1,000-acre campus at Boca Raton.

"This total, however," Burns pointed out, "is only one-fifth of the amount needed to open University on schedule in September of 1964 thus avoiding a possible two-year delay."

Between now and the end of March we need funds to pay salaries to the University president, a minimum corps of faculty and administrative personnel and secretarial staff, he said.

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
 I see by the papers where some science fellows at the University of Illinois has developed a contraption they call "Plato" that is liable to get the attention of them Congressmen when they come back in session.
 The piece I was reading said professors could take Plato and keep all students honest. The students get prepared questions on a TV screen and feeds their answers into the machine. Plato will then ring a alarm bell if a student is trying to dodge a question or don't answer correct.
 Now if the taxpayers ever get to using Plato on politicians, you can see, Mister Editor, that the end is in sight for about 90 percent of the fellows now holding public office. For instant, in all my days I ain't never met a office holder that didn't deny he ever had anything to do with hiking taxes. They all raise their right hand and allow as how they was just innocent bystanders when any tax-raising took place, standing way off watching the proceeding like a calf peeping over a pasture fence.
 If Plato turns out pretty good with students, the movement could spread to Government officials, so you can look for the next Congress to outlaw Plato as unwise, unnecessary and un-American.
 Speaking of students, I was reading where a organization of teachers is mighty upset about the word "ain't" getting put in the new dictionary and now being official. On account of me being such a good speller myself, I ain't never owned a dictionary and this is the first notion I've had that "ain't" ain't been official, legal and proper all the time. What I'd like to know is when it got took out of the dictionary in the first place.

 I note in one of them little pamphlets I got from the Agriculture folks that the bad weather last Spring will keep us from having any surplus, which under the New Frontier is being called our "abundance" is costing the taxpayers about $2 million a day for storage. Maybe the farmers will come out about even on account of not having any extra taxes to pay for storage.
 Well, the Census Bureau kept putting out items they has compiled from the 1960 census. They had a couple last week that was mighty interesting. For instant, they say in 1960 we had 50 million Americans of driving age that can't drive a car. From my observation along the highways, about 49 million of 'em is behind the steering wheel anyhow. And they now estimate that the population of the world has doubled in the last 100 years. In the next 100 it'll either double or nothing.
 Yours truly,
 Uncle Dan

The RAM-PAGE is happy to present two poems by William Thomas Pierce.

JUST GOD AND ME
As I lie in this coffin alone in my sorrow,
My mind dwells on many thoughts of the morrow.
Not tomorrow . . . above with the sun o'er the sea,
But a personal tomorrow, just God and me.
When He looks back on the commandment I've broken,
All the times, like a fool, His name I've vainly spoken,
How I created and led through my life from the start,
I know that's when my future will change from dim to dark.
O, I know the life I lived was as sinful as could be,
That's why I dream tomorrow with just God and me.
He'll share His head, but I guess it's just as well,
For He won't let Heaven when you know your place is Hell.
O, I hear the sounds of Hades, screams of pain I'll soon know too,
For you can't go to Heaven when you've lived a life untrue.
O, I fear old Satan's smile, the eternal misery,
That's why I dream tomorrow with just God and me.

AND THE FLOWER DIES
She was so lovely, so fresh, so clean,
With shining hair and eyes that gleamed.
With skin so soft and lips so red,
I loved my sweetheart, but now she's dead.
We worked, we played, we laughed, we cried,
My love was broken when my love died.
Almighty God above I know
Has cradled to Him the one I love so.
He has shown her the mercy of Heaven above,
He has fulfilled the life of the one that I love.
As I stand on this precipice, alone in my plight,
I hear many sounds call out of the night.
But none calls so strongly as the voice that I love,
Saying, "Come home, darling, in Heaven above."
But what of my life I live here below,
What of the life that I love so?
The spring in the meadow, the lark in the pine,
The fish in the river, the dove in the pine,
I love you my angel, watch over me I pray,
And I'll meet you again on Judgment Day.
We will walk through the City that has no sin,
On my flower that died will bloom for me again.

Leading Missionary Statesman To Be Featured On WSWN 17th.

Dr. Oswald J. Smith, recognized as a leading missionary statesman of today and founder of the Christian Science Church, Toronto, Canada will be featured on a nine-hour radio convention to be conducted in this area Saturday, February 17, over WSWN, 900 kc, commencing at 8 a. m. with the Rev. Wesley P. Stebbins, emceeing.

Dr. Smith, in more than 50 years of ministry, preached in 66 countries, composed over 600 hymns, and authored some 25 books in more than 30 languages, says Dr. Jack McAllister, head of World Literature Crusade, with headquarters in Studio City, Calif., sponsoring organization which "airs" a program locally each Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

Currently devoting much of his time to missionary projects, Dr. Smith, honorary president of WLC, will give a condensation from eight of his most well-known sermons on the radio marathon he will share with Dr. McAllister. The latter is to highlight his organization's paramount program of furnishing free gospel literature to missionaries of more than 100 different denominations in over 100 countries.

Dr. Charles Fuller, Dr. Clyde Taylor, Dr. Billy Graham, Dr. Frank Laubach, and Dr. C. Townsend, will also be heard during the nine-hour event.

Read Romans 8:31-39
Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. (Romans 8:37).

In our service for the Master, we are often too eager to see our accomplishments right away. Dwight L. Moody tells that one morning he was in his study, cast down because he could not see much fruit of his work.

One of his friends came in and sensed his gloom. The visitor asked Moody if he had studied the life of Noah. Moody replied, "No, I never studied his life particularly."

When the visitor left, Mr. Moody took down his Bible and read how Noah struggled and toiled for God many, many years yet never got discouraged.

Moody said to himself, "Well, I ought not to be discouraged." The clouds lifted, and he could say: "Let us ask God to forgive us, if we have been discouraged and cast down; let us ask God to give us hope, that we may be ever hopeful."

If the Lord wants us to work without any fruit, let us work on for Him. God helping us, we can do our best, and leave the rest in His hands.

PRAYER: O God, give us an unquenchable love for Thee. Grant also that we may see the challenge of helping others love Thee. Inspire us to do our best for Thee and leave the results in Thy hands. For the Savior's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
If we do our work for the Master, God will not permit it to be without fruit. Katherine Bevis (Texas)

1961 Star Officers

Preside At Last Meet

The Order of Eastern Star

held the last meeting with officers of 1961 presiding at the Masonic Temple Thursday night.

Mrs. Roe Steel was initiated into the order and Mrs. Beula Simmons, worthy grand matron requested the standing committee chairman to make their annual reports at the next meeting.

A letter was read from the grand worthy matron appointing

Mrs. Simmons to serve as Grand Excort at Grand Chapter in Jacksonville in April.

OES Chapter No. 141 invited the local chapter to attend installation in West Palm Beach on Feb. 10, and a note was read from Mrs. Mary Wall, of Cape

Coral, that she planned to go on a tour of Europe in March and will return in June.

The worthy matron presented her officers with gifts and also those who served as substitute officers throughout the year.

Mrs. Paye Greer worthy matron, in behalf of the officers presented a gift of a table lamp to Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Fred

Simmons, worthy patron.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs.

Rachel Lutz, Mrs. Margie Whitlock, Mrs. A. E. Kirkman and

Mrs. Amy Strickland.
